

The International Maritime Transport and Logistics Conference

Marlog 11

“Towards a Sustainable Blue Economy”

ALESSANDRO PANARO
HEAD OF “MARITIME & ENERGY” DEPT., SRM

Transport Economist, with particular reference to ports, shipping and logistics. Head of Service of the Research Area of SRM (Intesa Sanpaolo Group) called "Maritime & Energy". Coordinator of Researches and Reports involving teams of Italian and foreign Universities and Research Centres including the Universities of Rotterdam, Hamburg and Antwerp, the Shanghai International Shipping Institute, the Korea Maritime Institute, the Hong Kong Polytechnic, Certet Bocconi, Prometeia, Bank of Italy.

Author of articles and essays in national and international scientific and specialised journals. Lecturer in training courses and masters. Member and Board Member of the International Propeller Club of Naples, member of GEI (Gruppo Economisti di Impresa). Member of the Scientific Committee of the Association for Sustainable Logistics (SOSLOG), of the LNG Conference and of IRGIT (Research Institute on the Geography of Territorial Innovation), which is part of the Federico II University of Naples.

Speaker at numerous national and international conventions, conferences, seminars and meetings on the topics of ports, logistics, maritime transport, intermodal transport and shipping. Since 2017, he is included as an expert in the Desk SEZs-Special Economic Zones of Intesa Sanpaolo, which is in charge of following and monitoring the evolution of these zones in the country.

He represents Intesa Sanpaolo in the Technical Table on the Blue Economy in the Italia 2030 initiative called by the Ministry of Economic Development and Luiss Business School. He is a member of the Think Tank on Logistics (TTL), a project coordinated by the Freight Leaders Council. He has carried out scientific missions and technical visits to more than 40 national and international ports and logistics platforms.