

The International Maritime Transport and Logistics Conference Marlog 12

Innovative Technologies for Ports and Logistics Towards a Sustainable Resilient Future

Ștefan Catană

Assistant Professor, Faculty of Business and Administration, University of Bucharest, Romania.

Ștefan-Alexandru Catană is Assistant professor at the Department of Business Administration, Faculty of Business and Administration at the University of Bucharest (Romania).

His research focuses on marketing, management, entrepreneurship, and strategy. He is the author of over 40 studies and scientific articles published in journals indexed in prestigious international databases and in the proceedings of international scientific conferences and events.